WARRIAN '65

"FROM WARWICK TO THE WORLD"

DEDICATION

For concepts to be meaningful, for teachers' words to become students' knowledge, there must be visible purpose. The best instructors are those who make ideas applicable to both experience and the future. But the dedicated teacher is more. In addition to being concerned with his subject, he is concerned with the welfare of his students—their interests, their aspirations, their ideals. To such a teacher, this yearbook is dedicated.

To him, students are individuals. He gives their questions careful consideration; he treats none as unimportant. He relates answers to the questioner's universe, not only his own or the textbook's. And he tries to learn as well as teach.

To him, athletics is more than learning rules and plays. He recognizes a sport as a chance for acquiring skills and becoming acquainted with basic situations and reactions, for "knowing oneself."

To him, an individual's potential is limited only by desire. His support in assisting his students to realize their hopes with their abilities is unflagging.

In short, his example has helped us to understand the world a bit more clearly and to be better citizens in it. Therefore, we, the class of 1965, dedicate the Warrior to Mr. Stanley C. Schoenberger.

He recognizes a sport as a chance for acquiring skills and becoming acquainted with basic situations and reactions, for "knowing oneself."

To him, students are individuals. He gives their questions careful consideration; he treats none as unimportant.

IN MEMORIAM

Herb Clausen

He'll always be a part of us,
No matter what we do;
With us he travels life's long road,
His memory borne anew.

Whenever things were going wrong,
As we were friends in need,
Right there by our side he was
Prepared for any deed.

But now he is a memory,
A picture in this book;
So often we will open it,
Upon him just to look.

And then we'll thank God above,
As on that solemn day,
For helping in life's journey,
And sending him our way.

ENGLISH

The individual is never separated from English, his native language. All his thoughts, to be of value to anyone but himself, must be expressed clearly and concisely. The main objective of the English department is to instill a mastery of the language through grammar, vocabulary, literature, and composition. A thorough knowledge of English supplements all other fields of education.

EXPRESSION through the mother tongue is stressed in twelfth grade English classes.

MATHEMATICS

The mere memorization of formulas and number patterns is the uninterested student's viewpoint of mathematics. Modern concepts have made it a depth study of application and theory. Not only does one learn how to use numbers in given situations, but also how to apply his knowledge of logical reasoning to many "everyday" problems. A good background in mathematics prepares the student for other fields because he learns to use his mind effectively.

SCIENCE

The sciences, although diverse in specific subject matter, have a similar function: to demonstrate the value of principle and experiment. It is the process of experiment, observation, conclusion, generalization that enables man to predict natural occurrences and to imitate and improve upon them. The science curriculum familiarizes us with principles and their application and helps us to realize that our environment is an orderly, if complicated, combination of causes and effects.

Mr. Stanley Schoenberger

BUSINESS

To prepare its students for vocations in the business world is the objective of the commercial department. Those who decide not to go to college are ready, upon graduation, for various types of skilled employment.

Mr. Homer Hackman

Mr. Richard Murr

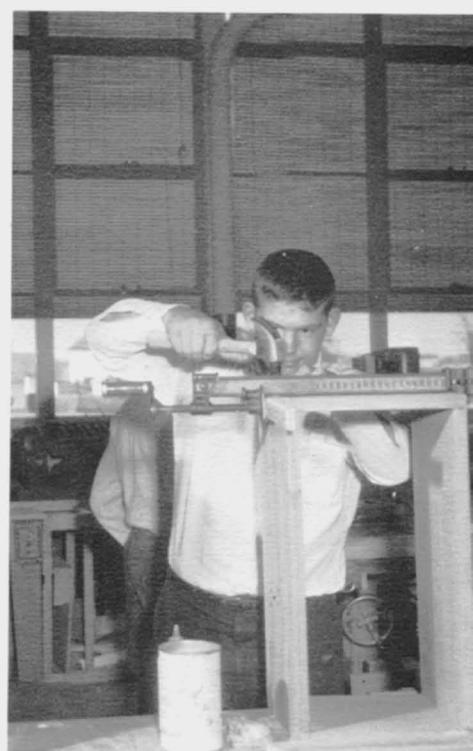

Mr. Frederick Augustine

PRACTICAL homemaking skills prepare students for a variety of homemaking vocations.

Home-economics, agriculture, and industrial arts courses are all preparation for a vocation, whether in a factory, on the farm, or in the home. These classes provide instruction in actual skills needed in adult life and develop an appreciation for doing a job well. A student enrolled in one of these courses at Warwick can feel he will graduate well-prepared for the future.

LANGUAGES

The language department strives to instill in its students an appreciation of culture and literature and to develop abilities in oral and written communication. One learns not only the fundamentals of his chosen language but also the ways in which he can use this knowledge to its best advantage.

MUSIC

The influence of the music department is evident at assemblies, football games, and concerts. But this providing of entertainment is only part of a greater function: to extend the cultural education of both participants and audience.

EXPRESSION through music is provided during orchestra rehearsals under the direction of Ray Kauffman.

BUS DRIVERS

CAFETERIA STAFF

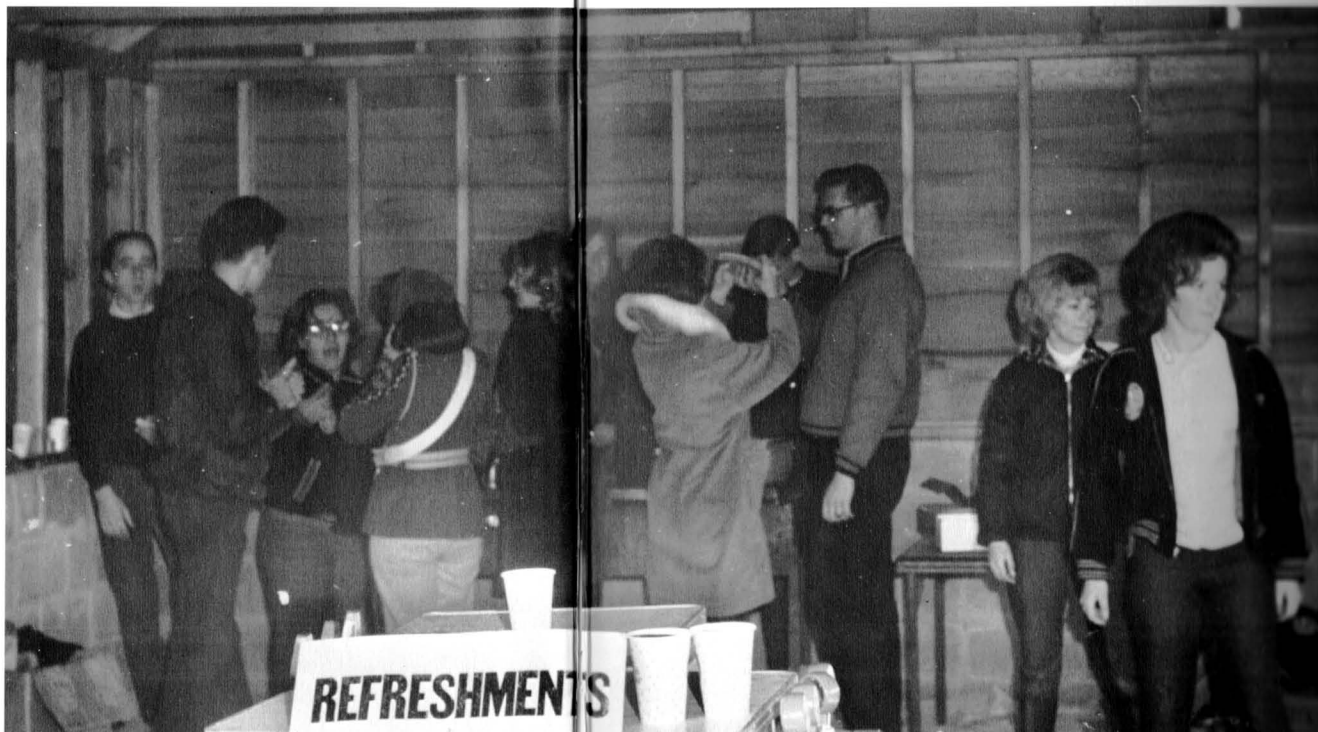

These special staffs provide for the health and safety of twelve hundred students. Each day sixty percent of the high school students rely on a staff of eleven bus drivers. Custodians are on duty all hours of the day maintaining school facilities. A staff of eleven efficient cafeteria workers prepares for five or six hours to serve a seemingly eternal tide of students.

The service of these staffs will never be fully appreciated.

Athletics are an integral factor in the educational process at Warwick. Sports cultivate a sense of responsibility, stress the importance of teamwork, promote health, and develop an appreciation of competition. Sportsmanship and a sense of fair play are qualities that are retained long after the athlete has left the field.

More than one-fourth of the senior class has participated in interscholastic competition for seven varsity sports. Several seniors have earned recognition in more than one sport. Bill Landis, selected in the fall as an all-county end, also received a varsity letter in basketball and baseball. Bruce Singer, Fred Sample, Sam Soto, Dick Gundrum, Tom Murr, Denny Kissinger, and Gary Young have received letters in two varsity sports.

SENIORS SERVING

TIMOTHY STYER

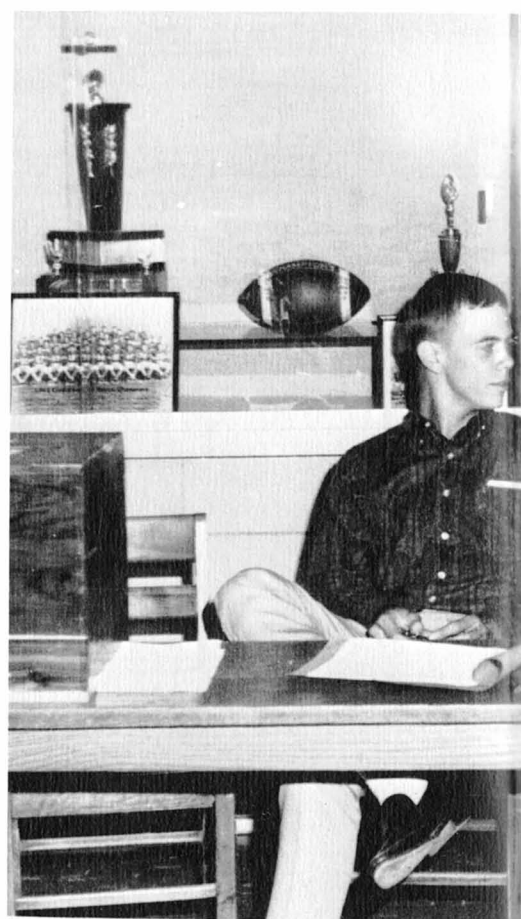

"Tim" . . . a pleasant, quiet (?) fellow . . . dislikes conceited people . . . hobbies: hunting and fishing . . . hopes to enter the Navy and learn a trade.

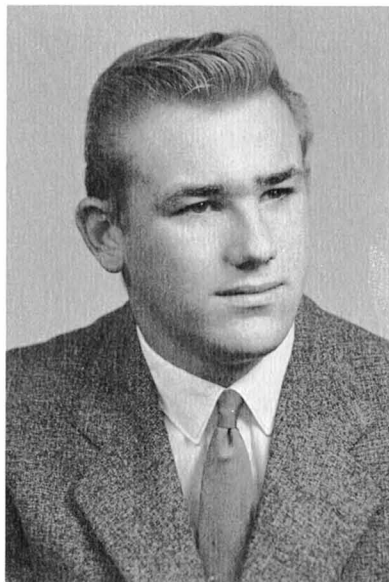

Perhaps most deserving of all seniors are those who are willing to donate their time and effort without thought of recognition. These selfless seniors perform the praiseless tasks that are so very essential in the function of a class.

Carl Shenk, Don Showers, and several other dedicated seniors maintained the refreshment stand during football games. Planning dances and providing for refreshments were often the responsibilities of Darlene Helman, Diana Davidson, and Fay Burkholder. Tom Murr, Randy Reist, and Alan Klase served unselfishly whenever stage hands were needed.

Although many have not been mentioned, they receive their reward in their service to the class.

Student Council members Fred Sample and Doug Gaul sacrifice class periods to serve at polls.

PAUL SWEIGART

Memories of our class to the halls of Warwick

Marilyn's singing ability to Diane Taft

Trina's baton to Linda Garner

A championship hockey team to Miss Smith

Betty Buch's shorthand ability to Donna Weaver

Tom Brubaker's guitar to Jeanette Engle

Another Eddie to Mr. Garman

A quiet glee club to Mrs. Drabek

Bill Pezick's shoes to the U.S. Navy

A set of golf clubs to Mr. Trupe

A dirty football field to the class of 1966

Gene Risser's basketball ability to Tom Clausen

Commercial girls' efficiency to the junior girls

A little more time to Mr. Noll

A hockey victory to the football team

Orderly class meetings to the freshmen

Sue Johnson's laugh to Marcia Groves

A successful prom to the sophomores

John Hornberger's wrestling skill to Wayne Smythe

A disconnected phone to Mrs. Carpenter

Memories of Janet Spencer to everyone

Brenda Weit's loquaciousness to Lana Buch

Life savers to Mr. Male

A trip to Italy to Mr. Anchak

Twiola to next year's play cast

Frustration to next year's Teepee Topics editors

WARRIAN

The Warrian — a combination of imagination, frustration, and dedication. The editors are chosen, the contract is signed, and the first meeting is held as the book begins to take shape . . . Countless hours were spent in taking pictures, selecting the best of them, writing articles, selling ads, and proof-reading copy. But the memories this volume holds and their increasing value as the years pass will make the labor well worthwhile. The satisfaction of knowing the 1965 Warrian will be cherished by many is more than sufficient reward for those who have worked vigorously for its completion.

SENIOR HIGH STUDENT COUNCIL

Basically, the student council focuses its attention on one main objective: the betterment of Warwick High School. It also provides a means of expression for students and faculty.

Sponsoring the Christmas dance, conducting youth day elections, and obtaining milk machines in the cafeteria are just a few of its projects through the year.

The student council can be a very beneficial organization, and its success depends only on the drive and enthusiasm of its members.

Teepee Topics

Teepee Topics Develops New Policy & Style

This year our school newspaper, Teepee Topics, tried to present the news consciously and accurately and to feature topics which would be the most interesting for the students.

By contracting a new printer, the staff was able to make use of modern techniques and various types, therefore making the paper more attractive and easier to read.

Under the direction of editor-in-chief Ann Gearhart, the senior editors devoted many hours to the production of the six issues. With the aid of a journalism class and experience gained this year, next year's staff will be well-prepared for newspaper work.

SEATED: D. Helman, typing editor; S. Hershey, business editor; M. Graybill, features editor; D. Ketterman, girls' sports editor. STANDING: R. Bender, sports editor; T. Leed, news editor; C. Shuman, photography editor.

Advisor, Mr. Kauffman; Editor, Ann Gearhart.

FIRST ROW: D. Hartranft, M. Miller, J. Bedger, L. Fisher, S. McConoghay, G. Brubaker, L. Buch. SECOND ROW: C. Kopp, J. Engle, S. Hay, J. Breneman, C. Adams, B. Singer, S. York. THIRD ROW: C. Miller, J. Graybill, J. Klos, K. Wagaman, S. Johnson.

"THE CURIOUS SAVAGE"

FIRST ROW: P. Spangler, E. Bradley, P. Bard. SECOND ROW: D. Foreman, T. Leed, A. Klase. THIRD ROW: D. Helman, R. Gundrum, Mrs. Price, S. Kowalewski, A. Gearhart, T. Brubaker.

Our Junior Play, "The Curious Savage," portrayed a contrast between the gentle inmates of the "Cloisters" and the cruel outside world exemplified by Mrs. Savage's children. Under the exacting direction of Mrs. Price, the cast of eleven presented this sophisticated comedy on March 6 & 7, 1964.

"Let's go upstairs Mrs. Paddy, Mrs. Savage's visitors are here."

"I don't object to your biting me, but tell us what you did with our money!"

"Now — target for tonight."

"I don't think I want to leave at all."

"THE COURTSHIP OF EDDIE'S FATHER"

"You see, I'm taking a course in self-improvement."

"Gee, Dad, our baseball game is going to start pretty soon."

"Yes, Tom, I will."

The Senior Play, "The Courtship of Eddie's Father," centered around Eddie Corbett and his attempts to find a suitable wife for his widowed father. Under the direction of Mr. Garman, the class presented one of the most successful plays in the last several years.

FIRST ROW: T. Kegel, T. Brubaker, T. Leed, D. Newcomer, J. Reidenbach, J. Klos, R. Nies, D. Showers, P. Spangler, J. Knight, D. Zook (student director). SECOND ROW: R. Rosenberg, C. Rob-

Rannels. FIFTH ROW: R. Miller, J. Eshleman, D. Helman, K. Shannon,
A. Mease, M. Hammond, R. Good, Director Mr. Steiner.

With the co-operation of the members, Mr. Steiner has again produced a fine concert and marching band. The 70-piece organization, along with its majorettes and color guards, is an essential part of various school functions: the band's performances in concerts, assemblies, pep rallies, football games, and parades display the unit's abilities.

This year, the Senior High Orchestra, under the excellent direction of Mr. Ray Kauffman, again worked both to improve its standard of performance and to augment its musical experience. This was visible in its program which included a Von Suppe overture, movements of a Haydn symphony, and a Telemann Suite for Solo Flute and Strings — the first time for a string orchestra number.

The regular schedule was enlivened by entertaining at the Junior and Senior Plays and by occasional rehearsals at assemblies. Also, certain orchestra members joined the Glee Club to present the Christmas program.

Seventeen people represented Warwick in County Orchestra. Four Warwick musicians — Tom Murr, Bill Pezick, Linda Stauffer, and Judi Ebbert — were selected to play in the Southern District Orchestra.

Going caroling and presenting the nativity play "The First Nowell" were just two of the many rewarding activities in which the Glee Club participated. Much hard work, 7:00 A.M. rehearsals, and a great deal of fun filled the rest of the year as the Glee Club prepared for the spring concert, "A Day at the World's Fair," which featured songs from foreign countries. The music department at Warwick would not be complete without our fine Glee Club.

"The Record Book Will Never Indicate

Despite a lack of experience, the Warwick football team in 1964 carried a 2-7-1 record in the first year of the Lancaster County High School Football League. The tragic death of Herb Clausen in summer practice was an unfortunate blow to the team.

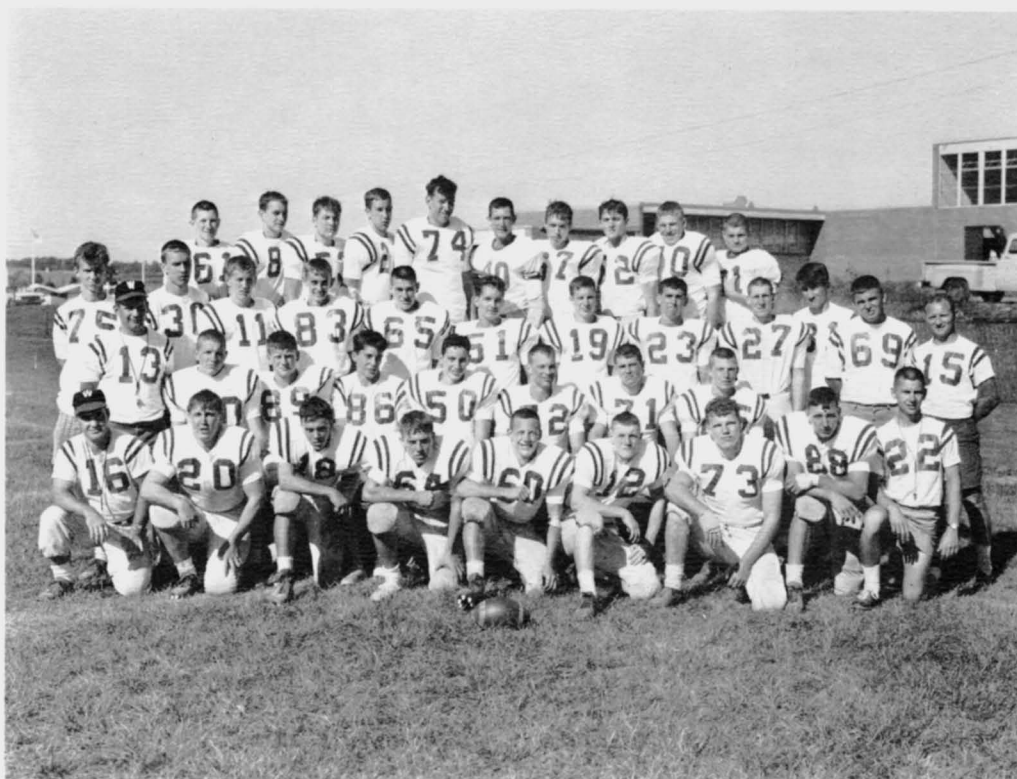

Even though the Warriors were often outscored, the team this year was noted for its enthusiasm and hard hitting, which should carry over to next year.

Warwick football will miss the excellent coaching abilities of Head Coach Stanley Schoenberger, who resigned this year to devote more time to academic work.

A Comment from the Coach

It has been a pleasure to work with the players of the class of '65 on the football squad. They gave their all and the record book will never indicate the full measure of their loyalty and hard work. May they win all the "big ones" in life.

Scoring twice as many goals as their opponents, this year's hockey team completed an undefeated season. The reasons for this year's success are obvious: Miss Smith's enthusiasm and the team's undying spirit coupled with experience and skill gained at hockey day camp were vital elements in the team's success formula. Co-captained by seniors Darlene Helman and Sue Horn, the team worked to create new interest in this girls' sport. Spectator backing soared as the season was highlighted by the well-attended home-coming game with Hempfield. Next year, with the return of many varsity players, field hockey will achieve added importance as a popular girls' outdoor sport.

Led by Tom Clausen in scoring and captain Gene Risser in rebounding, this year's varsity basketball team compiled a record of 8 wins and 9 losses. Even though this was a building year, the Warriors broke even in Section 2, retaining Warwick's record of not having a losing season.

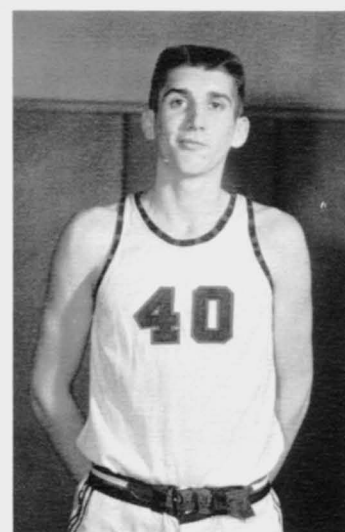

The junior high team began the season slowly, but completed with a five game winning streak and a record of five wins and three losses.

The well-rounded abilities of both the varsity and junior high teams provide a sound basis for future winning seasons.

WRESTLING

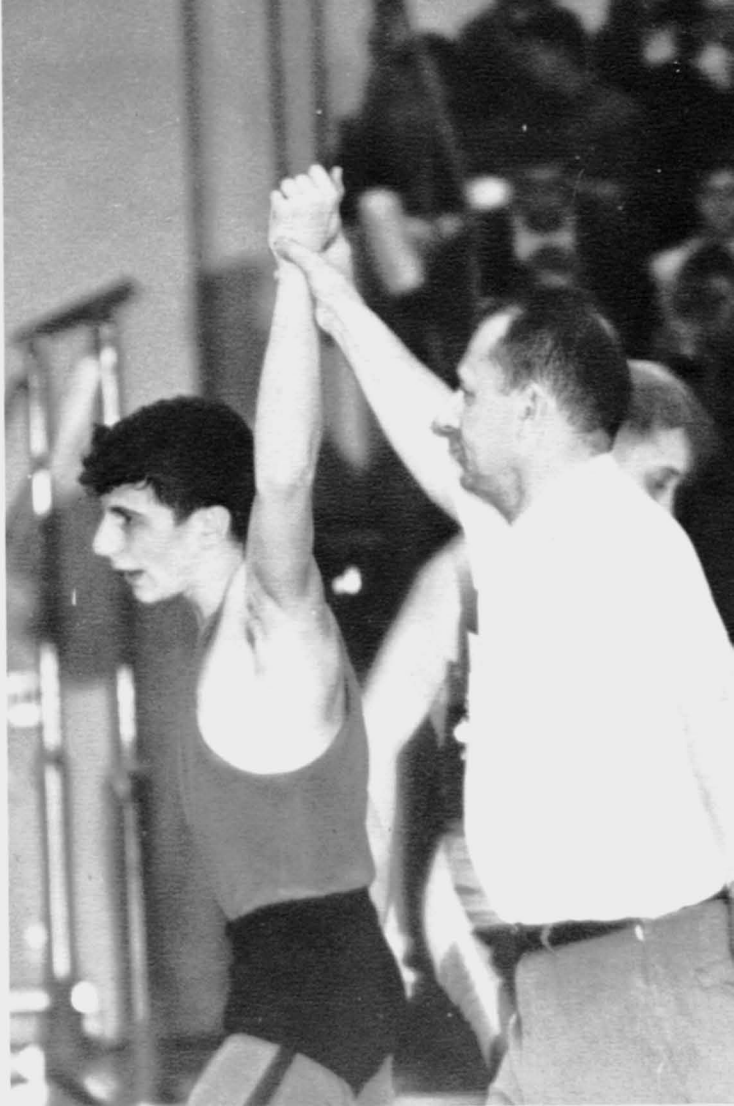

This year, the wrestling team again finished with a winning season of eight wins and five losses. Coaches Ronald McIntyre and Edward Journey have done a fine job during their first year at Warwick.

Co-captains John (120) Hornberger (9-0-1) and Bruce (180) Singer (11-1-1) achieved best team records for the season. Fred Hess, in his first year of varsity wrestling, led the team with seven pins.

Although coach McIntyre will lose nine seniors, he has a fine nucleus for the future, including Dan Rossi, Mike Roth, and Wayne Smythe, the District III 103-pound runner-up.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The girls' varsity basketball team maintained an overall record of four wins and five losses. Three of these games were in overtime and three were lost by only one point. Games with the boys' basketball team, the alumnae, and the female faculty highlighted the season.

The junior varsity, winning eight games out of eight, will provide a good basis for next year's team. Also returning will be six experienced varsity players.

"We got the coach, team, pep, steam" — all these are generated by twelve tireless cheerleaders. Few people realize the effort put forth by these girls: putting up signs throughout the school, marching with the band, planning pep rallies, promoting school spirit in everything they do. Led by Miss Smith and co-captains Lynn Stryker and Dawn Ketterman, the squad worked diligently win, lose, or draw.

It used to be we'd linger there,
In the sunlight of a thousand friends.
But now it's over; life seems bare;
The year is done, our story ends.

Though dark and dismal seems the night,
The stars shine through, dispelling fears.
And though our days and years took flight,
Memories remain to dry our tears.

Coach Journey

Outstanding team batting records with several individual averages above .300 should provide a baseball team with a good record. But this year the "Journeyman," so-called because of their new coach, Mr. Journey, unfortunately did not have the power to maintain a winning season.

Nevertheless, the abilities of the underclassmen will be better developed and the experience gained will be a definite asset to the team.

WARWICK IN COMMENCEMENT CEREMONY

Seniors leave the stage for the last time.

A muttered "left . . . right . . . left . . . right" might mean little to the underclassmen at this point, but to the seniors it immediately suggests a few frantic days of marching in mortar boards and angel suits. Though the hours of practice may not have seemed entirely happy ones, they were necessary preparation for the detailed ceremonies of Thursday, June 10.

The program began with orations on the these "As We Face the World" — "Be Prepared" by Trina Leed, "Be Concerned" by William Pezick, "Be Successful" by Priscilla Spangler. After the orations there were also two musical numbers: a vocal solo, sung by Marilyn Stauffer and a piano duo "La Danza" played by Darlene Helman and Janice Myer. Dr. Luke Biemsderfer was the guest speaker.

And so the class of 1965 commenced. Its members first privilege as alumni was to attend the Annual Alumni Banquet.

Diplomas in hand, grateful seniors leave the stage.

TENNIS TEAMS HAVE WINNING SEAS DIFFER

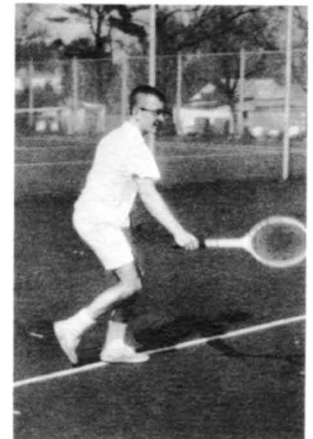

KNEELING: Dave Newcomer, Carl Schuman. STANDING: Dick Posey, Don Givler, Dick Gundrum.

This year's boys' tennis team finished with a record of 6 wins and 4 losses. Several of these losses were by only one match-point, and all were to teams who later finished 1st, 2nd, and 3rd in the league. Warwick was third place in the league, and Coach Garman was well-pleased with the team's success. Returning next year will be only one varsity player, Carl Schuman, as the other four — Dave Newcomer, Dick Posey, Dick Gundrum, and Don Givler — have graduated.

ONS: PROSPECTS FOR NEXT YEAR GREATLY

Viola Ures, Gloria Brubaker, Dawn Ketterman, Kathy Will, Mary Loe Rodger, and Laurie Strickler.

The girls' tennis team was unique in three facets: 1. There were no seniors on the varsity team; 2. Miss Smith coached the team with the help of Miss Kerstetter, the student teacher; and 3. They achieved the best record of any varsity team, winning 70% of their matches. Viola Ures, our No. 1 player and a sophomore, reached semi-finals in the county championships. The success of this year's team is only an indication of how good they can be next year.

GOLF SPARKS INTEREST AT WARWICK: HUBER PACES TEAM AND COUNTY.

Coach Trupe

Jeff Ross, Bob Huber, Ken Eshelman, John Schreiber, Art Thorn.

This year was Warwick's first for team golf, the result of increasing interest in the sport. The nine boys on the team compiled a fine beginning record — 5-5.

Each player had consistent scores, which demonstrates the steady individual effort exerted.

As none of the five varsity players will have graduated, prospects are even brighter for next year, when the team will join the County League.

TRACK TEAM COMPLETES SUCCESSFUL FIRST SEASON

Very seldom does a sport achieve complete success in its first year; however, the track team did very well in both team and individual accomplishments. Fred Sample won the championship in both county and district track meets, and placed second in the state meet. Also, Tom Clausen and Ed Nixdorf were successful in district and county meets. The team was well-represented in the dual meets throughout the season, and has a good chance for success next year when it joins the county league.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

This year, the National Honor Society tried to do more than just keep itself alive. Arranging a showcase was a small beginning in increasing general awareness that the society existed. Also, the members felt, because of the National Honor Society's special nature they might make a unique contribution to Warwick — that of constructive criticism. Accordingly, a group of resolutions suggesting improvements in school procedure was published. All were happy to discover that actions on several of the suggestions had already begun.

ORATORICAL CONTESTS

Among the thoughts that cross our minds when about to earn a mark in speech class is the question, "What is this for?" The abstract image of speech opportunities in college or community life is made much more real by the concrete practice of the oratorical contests. In a five-to six-minute oration the speaker describes a current problem, whether of a local, national, or international nature, and, in addition to discussing the situation, suggests solutions. By having not only to think but also to communicate his thoughts, the speaker enriches his experience while he is relying upon it.

Winners: Trina Leed, Priscilla Spangler, Ann Gearhart.

Winners: Steve Kowalewski, Neil Sheneberger, Bruce Singer.

Senior girls and their escorts begin the grand march.

Town & Country Inn was the setting for this year's Prom, held May 21. After a turkey dinner, the juniors and seniors danced to the music of Bob Liter and his Headliners. Miss Terry Kegel was crowned queen by her escort, Bob Rosenberg.

At midnight the post prom, Roman Holiday, was held at the cafeteria. Eddie Humph entertained until 4:00 A.M. Mr. and Mrs. Forbes Emsweller were instrumental in the plans for the post prom.
